PROJECTS

Currency-Exchange-MERN

Project utilizing the MERN stack (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) to facilitate real-time currency conversions. Implemented secure API integration and user-friendly interfaces.

Traveling-web application

That enhances user experience through intuitive design and seamless navigation. Both projects showcase my proficiency in full-stack development and commitment to delivering effective solutions.

Book Sharing mobile App (group project)

A React Native mobile app where users can list, share, and borrow books. It features user authentication, book management, requests, and notifications, promoting a community-driven exchange of books.
